

Video Title: MSc Professional Engineering – Gary Preece

It's a good idea to combine work and study because it's current, it gives you the best opportunity to portray what you're doing in your studies and at the work place and if you're relying on information that's credible and ready at the time then it gives you the best opportunity.